RareBooksClub. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 56 pages. OCLC Number: 55674832 Excerpt: . . . 4 Intertribal discussions on how best to resolve the problems with Federal management of these trust funds, but we have also taken a more direct approach. We have contracted under the Self - Tribal Self-Governance Act - to manage our own trust funds accounts. I am happy to report to you that the tribal government and the tribal members alike are very happy with our experience in taking over administration of the Federal functions, trust functions. Due to our experience, we have a unique insight into the trust funds management issue since we can view it from a perspective of both accounts manager and accounts holder. As managers of these accounts, we can appreciate the complex-ities in resolving the administration and accounting issues. As an account holder, we know as well as everyone that Federal mismanagement of these trust funds has long worked great injus-tices to the many tribal and individual Indian beneficiaries, injus-tices that would have not been tolerated had they occurred in any other segment of American society. We appreciate that Congress is continuing to look at ways to cor-rect these injustices and to prevent mismanagement in the future. As you are aware, the filing of the Cobell litigation has resulted in the trust funds mismanagement issue receiving the attention that it requires. Unfortunately, that litigation was filed over 7 years ago, and it was only within the last month that a decision was rendered by the Federal District Court. In short, the litigation is an extremely lengthy process, and I believe it is both appropriate and productive for Congress to try its hand at a remedy for the sit-uation. One thing we feel strongly about is...
