Excerpt: .seems vague, illusive, unreal, but matter slipping away into modes of motion, dissolving into mere activity, and so shading off toward some great reality, full of life and energy, --not matter, and therefore spirit. Science has led up to the point where matter, and not God, becomes the unknowable. A little further struggle through this tangle of matter, and we may stand on a peak of Darien, in wild surmise before the ocean of spirit.--Rev. T. T. Hunger. The Divine forces were forming man in the gaseous chaos of the beginning, ere matter had rounded itself into light-giving orbs, or whirled off its rotating and balanced suns. Each particle of oxygen, each atom of lime waited for him, ready to obey his thought. The earth, the water, and the air worked for him. The frost and the glacier were his plows. The gases massed themselves...
